Hamilton Bares New Deal Fears

Sees 'Victory for America' This Fall, in Speech at Chicago.

CHICAGO, ILL. — John D. M. Hamilton, new chairman of the Republican National committee, opened the Republican Presidential election campaign in the West with a ringing, straightforward declaration of the misdeeds of the Roosevelt administration and its fear of obliteration which the higher recognition of these misdeeds has produced.

His speech was delivered at a dinner given him by the Republican Finance committee for Illinois. As he finished up the note, "There can be only one outcome in November—a victory for America!" the more than 3,000 listeners cheered wildly. It was the largest political dinner in Chicago's history; 1,200 were turned away.

In the early passages of his speech, Hamilton dealt upon the "phony" character of the claimed New Deal confidence in recovery, and endorsement of its candidate—confidence he said was unreliable for the very fact that it has been bought with payroll jobs and the taxpayers' money.

Points to Farley's Fears. Hamilton also cited the futile imitations of the Republican platform advocated by President Roosevelt with respect to the Democratic monopoly plank, the civil service plank and the plank on balancing the budget. He charged that these imitations are sincere flattery.

"There has been a sudden end to the talk that the Hamilton party would carry only six states in November," Hamilton declared. "On the contrary, the chairman of the Democratic National committee felt obliged to tell the delegates to the Philadelphia convention that confidence was not enough. And in the last few days supporters of the administration have been disheartened by the extraordinary spectacle of their candidate for President so uncertain of carrying his own state that he must draft the aid of a governor, whom he himself placed in office, at the sacrifice of that man's own personal preferences and political future."

Hamilton expressed sympathy for James A. Farley, "jobmaster general of the New Deal," declaring: "He has undertaken to see that his candidates are re-elected in November and quite plainly he doesn't know how it can be done."

Frustration of Business.

Business, the small business man particularly, owes little thanks to the New Deal, Hamilton said. "He has ridden through a period of uncertainty; he has lived through an organized attempt by government through the NRA to freeze business activity, and to limit production for the benefit of the larger and elaborately organized business. He has spent hours of the time which he would ordinarily use in running his business in filling out questionnaires and in filing unnumberable pages of statistics, which are now moldering in government vaults. He has seen the tax structure of the country completely revamped by two revolutionary bills. As the result of the latest legislation he faces a situation where government, through its taxing power, is favoring the big corporations at the expense of the smaller business seeking to expand."

Hamilton predicted that citizens would not be fooled out of realizing the excessive burden of taxes. "They will note the perfectly correct horror with which Mr. Roosevelt views gambling with other people's money, but at the same time they will note he fails to mention the gambling in which irreparable New Deal officials have indulged not only with our money but with money which our children will have to produce."

THROUGH A Woman's Eyes

By JEAN NEWTON

THE BIGGER THEY ARE, THE SMALLER THEY LOOK TO THEMSELVES

"SHE was so modest," she said, "the first time I met her, she acted as if I were being honored. I did not know her, but I could have thought so. But it was not that. It was only a matter of time before they were all waiting for her to come. The way she kept in the background."

A friend said that to me about the end of a first class dinner at a large reception given in her honor. More than a distinguished author, she was well known for her service to her country in times of great stress. In deed she had more than one foot in the great and noble world of letters.

However, that night, she was not the woman I had known. For a very long time, she had been my private friend, and I had known her in the most intimate way. The night she was there, she was not the woman I had known. For a very long time, she had been my private friend, and I had known her in the most intimate way.

And the distance between the two women was not far. It was only a matter of time before they were all waiting for her to come. The way she kept in the background."

LOCALS

THURSDAY, JULY 16, 1936

Don't miss the chicken dinner Sunday to be served by the ladies of St. Mary's Altar society in the basement of the church. Serving will begin at 12:00 o'clock. Price 50c.

Frank Deckrow is one of Grayling's oldest residents and he says that never before had he experienced so long a drought as we are now going thru, and had never seen the temperature reach 104 in the shade. That was probably the record high temperature for Grayling.

At the annual school meeting Monday night, T. P. Peterson and James McDonnell were re-elected members of the Board of Education of Grayling School District No. 1. There was a small attendance. A full report of the meeting will appear in an early issue.

Frank Sales has just had his house sided with new asbestos shingles furnished by the Grayling Box Company, and the A. J. Joseph house also is being sided with the same material. Nelson Corwin is building a new cabin down near Wakeley's bridge and is using the asbestos shingles also.

County Treasurer Wm. Ferguson was in attendance at the State Treasurers convention held in Port Huron last week. There were seventy-five county treasurers present, which Mr. Ferguson says, is a remarkable showing. He says the session programs were valuable for the information that was given the treasurers.

The oil that was placed on the streets recently to keep down the dust has been a God-send, the past warm, dusty spell. There was a certain amount set aside by our City fathers for the purpose of the oil and it was placed on streets that had the heaviest traffic. However, Maple street for four blocks was not treated to the oil as it is soon to be paved for that distance.

The pre-school and infant clinic held July 8th at the Grayling school building was very well attended in spite of the heat. Much credit goes to Mrs. J. L. Martin for her work in its preparation and help with the records. Among those who also assisted were Mrs. Gorman, Mrs. Edwin Carlson, Mrs. Leo Jorgenson, Mrs. Albert Knibbs, Mrs. Carlton Wythe, and Mrs. Wm. Jensen.

The Fire department made three runs during the past week, but all three fires were of small consequence. Sunday, it was called to Schweitzer & Company, where papers had become ignited from combustion. Tuesday to the home of Mrs. Minnie Benson, called as a precaution, as an oil stove had become ignited. Wednesday noon, the alarm was turned in from the Howard Smith residence. Fire resulted from a gas range but was extinguished before the fire department reached the home.

If there are any amateur entertainers in town or in the surrounding C. C. C. camps, who aspire to reach great heights, there is a golden opportunity awaiting them at the Heart Lake club every Friday evening. There are prizes for the winners, and a grand prize for the Friday following Labor Day, when all first prize winners compete for a week's booking in Detroit. Any one, wishing to enter these contests may do so by applying at the Heart Lake club or seeing Ted Wheeler.

We believe it's about the first time in Grayling's history that folks found it necessary to make beds in the out-of-doors in order to sleep. It's been nothing to see beds, cots, etc., on porches and lawns the past ten days. During the summer Grayling could always boast of its cool nights, no matter how warm the day was, but this has not been the case the past 10 days, when there was little relief from the extreme heat even during the night. Most homes were so warm during the night that they were unbearable.

When the July term of Circuit court opened Tuesday, Edward A. Bilitzke, newly appointed Circuit Judge, was on the bench. Sitting on a bench and practicing before a bar, are quite different, but Judge Bilitzke proved himself equally able as a judge as he has been a lawyer. By his questions he seemed able to get right down to the bottom of things and find out what they were all about. In every sense he manifested excellent judicial qualifications, and we cannot help but feel that the 34th district is going to be able to boast of having one of the most able judges in Michigan.

Melvina LaBrash, 6-year-old daughter of Edlore LaBrash, of Flint passed away at Hurley hospital in that city Saturday. The little girl died as the result of burns received several weeks ago when her clothing caught fire as she was trying to kindle a fire in the kitchen stove of their home. Besides the father, the child is survived by two sisters and two brothers, Mary Francis, Arlene, Paul and Carl. The mother passed away early this spring in Flint. Mrs. Paul LaBrash, the child's grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Sorenson and Ed Pratt attended the funeral, that was held at St. Agnes church, Flint, Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Marjorie Hanson of Grayling have returned to Grayling to reside.

Old age assistance has been granted to William S. Felton and Mrs. Julia Rogers of Crawford county.

The James Bugby family are "taking it cool" these warm days, having rented the cottage of John Bruun, at the lake.

Quite a number of local people were prostrated by the extreme heat of the past week, but all are recovering nicely now.

Members of the Legion Junior baseball team are sporting fifty new suits that were furnished by some of our enterprising business men.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McEvers are happy over the arrival of a son, George Eric, born Saturday, July 11. The little fellow weighed 8 1/2 pounds.

William Pachelon has purchased a Standard tudor with trunk from Burke's garage, and Claude Cardinal is driving a fine new Standard Tudor.

The Commune Grocery has a fine new GMC delivery truck. The City of Grayling too just put on a new GMC 1 1/2 ton truck. Both jobs were purchased from the Schoonover garage.

Don't miss the chicken dinner Sunday to be served by the ladies of St. Mary's Altar society in the basement of the church. Serving will begin at 12:00 o'clock. Price 50c.

Jimmy Feldhauser, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Feldhauser, of down river, is a patient at Mercy Hospital, where he is suffering from spinal meningitis. He is getting along as well as may be expected.

American Legion Drum & Bugle corps went to Lincoln last evening to help the ex-service men there organize a new post. They were greeted by a large crowd that had gathered from the surrounding country to watch the parade.

Honoring Mrs. Harold Hatfield, a number of ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. Tracy Nelson Thursday evening. Prizes for games were awarded to Mrs. Carlton Wythe, Mrs. Leo Jorgenson, and Mrs. Tracy Nelson. Pot luck lunch was served and Mrs. Hatfield presented with many lovely gifts.
